M'DONALD WILL CASE TO GO TO THE JURY TODAY

Arguments in Case Occupy Entire Day Thursday, End Today.

ONLY ISSUE GIVEN JURY TO DECIDE

Judge Phillips Charges Jury to Decide Only on Testamentary Capacity.

The single issue of the testamentary capacity of W. J. McDonald on the date of the execution of his will in which he bequeathed to the university of Texas a million dollars for the construction of an astronomical observatory, is the only issue to be decided upon by the jury, according to the charge given by Judge Newman Phillips yesterday morning.

Arguments began Thursday morning and will be concluded at noon today. The case will then go to the jury.

——FIRST DD McDONALD ....

The court will submit this case to you upon a special issue of fact in the form of the question hereinafter propounded to you and which you will answer from the evidence in the case writing your answer in the space left for that purpose following the question. Before propounding the question referred to above I give you the following instructions and definitions:

First. All persons over the age of 21 years and who possess testamentary capacity have the right to make whatever disposition of their property they desire.

Second. The burden of proof is upon the First National Bank of Clarksville and Morris Fleming to establish by the preponderance of the testimony that on the eighth day of May, 1925, W. J. McDonald had testamentary capacity.

Third. You are the exclusive judges of the credibility of the witnesses and the weight to be given to their testimony.

Fourth. To make a valid will the person making the will must have testamentary capacity at the time of the execution of the will. By testamentary capacity is meant that the person at the time of the execution of the will has sufficient mental ability to understand the business in which he is engaged, the effect of his act in making the will and the general nature and extent of his property. He must also be able to know his next of kin and the natural objects of his bounty. He must have memory sufficient to collect in his mind the elements of the business to be transacted and to hold them long enough to perceive at least their obvious relation to each other and to be able to form a reasonable judgment as to them.

Now bearing in mind the foregoing definition and instructions you will answer the following question:

Did or did not W. J. McDonald have testamentary capacity on May 8, 1925, at the time he executed the will in controversy? Let your answer be "He did" or "He did not" as you may find.

After you have answered the

Armed Mobs Are Abroad in Athens

LONDON, Sept. 9, (AP)—A Reuter dispatch from Athens late tonight says an armed mob attacked the Central Telegraph office and many shots were exchanged with the military guard whose commander was wounded. It is feared there were many casualties in the streets.

A state bordering on anarchy exists.

AMERICAN FLAG FAILS TO DISGUISE HOMEBREW

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9 (AP)—The American flag was used in New Orleans last night to conceal a truckload of home brew, prohibition officers reported today.

A truck loaded with cases of beer, draped with the American flag, was halted, the officers said, when one end of the flag was blown from its moorings, exposing the load.

Two men were arrested and officers said they would investigate to learn if they could not be charged with misuse of the flag.

Is On Trial With Harry Daugherty

Col. Thomas W. Miller, above, one-time U. S. alien property custodian, is now on trial in New York, charged with having conspired to defraud the U. S., in connection with the return of assets to German owners in the American Metals case. Ex-Attorney General Harry Daugherty is being tried at the same time on the same charge.

FALL KILLS BRIDE OF PARIS CITIZEN

Wife of W. H. Upton Killed in Fall From Hotel Window in Springfield.

A tragic ending marked the culmination of a romance of long standing, when Mrs. Millie A. Upton, bride of a month of W. H. Upton of this city, was killed in a fall from a hotel window in Springfield, Mo., Wednesday night. Their marriage took place August 13, at Smithville, Ont., and, accompanied by Miss Maude Ellis, adopted daughter of Mrs. Upton, they were making the trip to Paris overland.

According to telephone messages Thursday to Mr. Upton's daughter, Mrs. Harry Holden, and his business partner, E. F. Harrell, they had stopped at Springfield on the way home, Mrs. Upton having been slightly ill for the past week. She got up about midnight to close a window when a rainstorm came up and is thought to have stumbled and fallen from the fifth story window.

Mr. Upton said he was returning to Smithville with the body for burial.

He and Mrs. Upton had known each other since childhood, and lately arranged to meet quietly at her former home, where the marriage ceremony was performed. She had been making her home in California the past few years.

EIGHTY-THREE LOST WHEN LATVIAN STEAMER SINKS

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 9. — The coasting steamer Niebade sank last night in the gulf of Riga with the loss of 53 sailors and 30 passengers. The cause of the disaster is not known, but it was possibly due to the explosion of a floating mine. The ship foundered in a heavy storm that prevented any rescue.

BANDITS CAPTURED AFTER HOLDUP FOR JEWELS ON TRAIN

HOLDUP MEN LEAVE TRAIN AND MAKE ESCAPE IN CAR

Loot Is Discovered Later in Brief Cases in Cache Near Highway Bridge.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 9.—Three Chicago bandits, who robbed three diamond merchants of a half million dollars worth of jewelry on an Illinois Central train near here last night, were captured in a corn field near Buckley, Ill., this morning.

The three men told capturing officers that they had hidden the jewelry between Loda and Buckley. Deputy Sheriff Henry Ennen of Iroquoise county and Chief of Police Louis Haecht of Buckley, who directed the capture, went back to find the jewels while the three prisoners were started to Champaign.

Two hundred farmers assisted in the capture and surrounded the men in a corn field, finally compelling their surrender. The men had taken refuge in a barn in the field.

Movements Timed

The bandits, who timed their movements by railroad schedule, last night bound, gagged and locked up three diamond merchants just before the Illinois Central's crack New Orleans Limited arrived here from Chicago, and stepped to the station platform with gems valued at half a million dollars.

Without hurry, they hailed a taxicab and were driven to adjacent Urbana, where they engaged a driver and another car, waited while he persuaded a friend to go along for company, and started on their flight toward Chicago, 125 miles away.

So quiet and methodical was their work that others on the Pullman were unaware of the robbery until the train neared Mattoon, 70 miles farther south. Then William Davidson, San Francisco, freed himself, Joseph Riskin, New York, and Morris Minsky, also of San Francisco, and the alarm was given.

Overlook Uncut Gems

The bandits entered the drawing room of the three jewelry men 20 minutes out of Champaign and before the train arrived bound the trio, rifled their stock cases and bolted the compartment door. They did not make a thorough search of all the baggage and missed $50,000 in uncut diamonds in Riskin's satchel. Davidson told officials everything indicated the bandits knew of the jewelers' stocks, which he said were fully insured against theft, and had trailed their victims. The robber trio had tickets from Chicago to Champaign.

Word of the robbery was dispatched over railroad wires from Mattoon and the pursuit began.

Communities in a wide arc toward Chicago were warned.

The shot punctured the tires but did not halt the flight.

In Loda, four miles away, however, an overheated motor balked and the trio, who had threatened the driver when accosted in Paxton, forsook the automobile and disappeared up the deserted road toward Chicago, afoot.

Posses were quickly organized and the entire section joined in the search, directed by railroad and civil authorities, resulting in the bandits' captured in a corn field.

Ruling Expected in Sheriff Race

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (AP)—A final ruling is expected tonight or Friday in the sheriff's election contest, involving a complete recount of all votes cast in the July primary election, in which Allen Seale was returned victor over Sheriff Schuyler Marshall by 124 votes in the official count, questioned later on grounds of alleged ballot tampering.

Both sides closed this afternoon and Charles F. O'Donnell chief counsel for Marshall made his opening argument in five words: "We'll abide by the recount."

Twenty-two questioned votes still are in possession of the court for assignment.

The contest has been in progress since August 16 in district court and reached a climax yesterday afternoon when testimony was offered concerning alleged bets aggregating $4,200 by Sheriff Marshall on the outcome of the election.

Veteran Army Pilot Heads Flight Around South American Continent

CASH AND JEWELS TAKEN FROM SAFE

Twenty-Four Thousand Dollar Robbery Staged At Mexia on Labor Day.

MEXIA, Sept. 9, (AP)—A Labor Day robbery of $24,000 in cash and jewels in the safe of Guy Herring, a road contractor, was revealed here today, according to Chief of Police A. R. Mace, who had withheld information on the robbery while it was being investigated. The loot consisted of $21,000 in cash and $3,000 in diamonds.

A window of the house was broken and the knob of the safe knocked off. Herring discovered the robbery after attending a revival meeting.

SIX LIVES LOST IN THIRD STORM IN CENTRAL WEST

Illinois and Indiana Suffer Loss Estimated At Two Million Dollars.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9, (AP)—Six lives were known to have been lost and $2,000,000 damage done at Terre Haute, Ind., and Jacksonville, Ill., tonight in the third flood to sweep the Central West in ten days.

The storm vented its wrath in central Illinois and east central Indiana but sent its current across Iowa and Missouri.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9, (AP)—Flood conditions prevailed again today in sections of Illinois and Iowa which bore the brunt of last week's damaging storms. The downpours, however, were not so general and appeared to have spent themselves with cloudbursts last night.

Jacksonville, Ill., was hard hit and was without gas, electric power or water. The municipal utilities plant and a commercial powerhouse were closed by the rain.

COOPER MAN DIES WHILE BROTHER MAKES INQUIRY

WAXAHACHIE, Sept. 9, (AP)—J. W. Green, Cooper, Tex., died Thursday at his home while his brother, J. B. Green, in Waxahachie, was inquiring over long distance telephone is to the condition of his kinsman.

Mr. Green was 63 years old. Not long ago he bought a new automobile in which he and his family planned to make a trip to Arizona, where, he believed, the climate would help him.

MESSAGES FAIL TO PREVENT SUICIDES

Man and Wife Found Dead in Hotel While Relatives Try to Stop Tragedy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9, (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Halsey Doyle of Brooklyn, N. Y., were found dead today in the New Willard hotel here while friends and relatives in distant cities were beseeching the Washington police department to prevent their suicide. It was indicated in telephone calls from Brookline R. I., that the Doyles, had notified someone of their intention to commit suicide, for the hotel was urged in the call from Frederick Halsey, Brookline, to locate them at once.

A note was found which said, "There is no one to notify, and the reason for our act is that we are without means to go on."

When found, the body of Mrs. Doyle was reclining easily on a bed, while that of her husband was sitting upright in a chair.

REPUBLICANS VIEW FUTURE HOPEFULLY

PAUL SMITH'S N. Y., Sept. 9, (AP)—A picture of political conditions encouraging to the Republican party in the shape of the fall congressional campaign was brought to White Pine camp today by Rep. Tilson of Connecticut, director of the eastern headquarters of the joint senate and house republican campaign committee in New York City.

The Republicans, Mr Tilson predicted, will suffer no loss in their working majority of 35 in the house this fall, while the elections will result in little if any change in the senate situation. The Democrats, he added, would not control the next senate. He expressed doubt that the elections would make any appreciable change in the prohibition sentiment in the house.

SHOOTING PRACTICE TO BE HELD TODAY

Shooting practice will be held on the Gun Club location at the fair grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The trap has been put in good working order by Lindsay Sporting Goods store, and will be available to all who wish to gain a little practice before the hunting season proper begins.

LETTERS INDICATE MEXICAN SHARE IN NICARAGUA REVOLT

Documents Captured From Rebel Forces Allege Participation of Calles.

NICARAGUA SAID TO BE BOUND BY U. S. 'CAPRICE'

'Virile and Fraternal Auspices of Mexico' Sought for Nicaraguan Move.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 9. Local newspapers today publish documents alleged to have been captured by the Chamorro government forces from the revolutionists during the recent battle at Costguina. One document is dated Mexico City, April 11. The letterhead reads "Nicaraguan Revolutionary Committee, Mexico Division."

The letters "submit to the citizen president of the Mexican republic, Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles," a program of military activities which includes the overthrow of the regime of "the traitor Emiliano Chamoro," and a proclamation of the sovereignty of the Nicaraguan people. The committee says it wishes "to break (relying on the indispensable aid from Mexico) the ties of servitude that bind Nicaragua, subject to the caprice of the United States."

Continuing, the communication says that for obvious reasons the committee "wishes to place under the virile and fraternal auspices of Mexico the future of Nicaragua, obtaining first the freedom of Nicaragua and afterwards laboring intensely toward the Central American union, all of this under the decided protection of Mexico."

Alliance Planned

"Once the unconditional services to the United States are swept from the political scene," the communication continues, "and the expansive and predominate attempts of that imperialistic country are removed and the Central American union is accomplished, a true and deep alliance between Mexico and the new Isthmian nationally would be entered into."

In order to attain "these highly patriotic and political aims," says the document, it will be necessary that Mexico support the committee "supplying all the arms and ammunition necessary to effect without delay the revolution."

Revolutionists Lose Battle

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 9, (AP)—The Chamorro government today claimed another victory over the revolutionists. A battle in Somotillo lasting seven hours yesterday resulted, it claims, in the defeat of 800 rebels with the loss of 30 killed, including General Pedro Vargas Grillo, and 50 wounded. The government losses are placed at eight killed and 20 wounded.

Three machine guns and 135 rifles, with three wagonloads of ammunition, were captured. General Marco Benavente is requesting doctors and medicines far the wounded.

Toledo Gambler Shot by Rivals

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 9 (AP)—A feud between Cleveland gamblers and followers of "Jimmy" Hayes, 39, well known in Toledo gambling circles, police declared today, was the cause of the mysterious attack on Hayes early today.

Hayes was fired upon without warning by one of three or four gangsters riding in an automobile as the car passed his machine. His assailants emptied both barrels of a double-barreled shotgun at him, both charges striking him.

Weak from the loss of blood, Hayes lost control of his car and it crashed into a telephone pole and was wrecked. Hayes was shot in the head, face, side, back and arms, but is expected to recover.

LONG FLIGHT MADE BY NEW YORK-PARIS PLANE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—"The New York-Paris" Sikorsky trans-Atlantic plane arrived at Bolling Field at 12:15 o'clock Eastern standard time today from New York.

It was the longest flight yet made by the huge plane in which Capt. Rene Fonck, the French ace, and Lieut. Allan Sneddy will attempt a non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

Despite hazy weather along a part of the route, the flight was accomplished in five minutes less than three hours. The plane left New York at 9:30 a. m. Eastern standard time.

BLACK PROTESTS REPORT AS MADE BY CROP BUREAU

Congressman Wires Protests to Jardine Against Probable Yield Estimates.

The News received a copy of the following wire, which Eugene Black, Congressional representative from this district, sent to Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, protesting the crop reporting bureau's probable estimate of the cotton crop, with possible maximum and minimum yields.

"I wire emphatic protest against the cotton reporting bureau when making estimates of probable yield also at same time giving out estimates of minimum and maximum yields. The estimate as to a possible minimum yield goes practically unnoticed and has no effect but estimate of the maximum yield is positively harmful to producers of cotton and is going to cost the South millions of dollars if you keep it up.

"Your estimate today of the maximum 16,379,000 would mean the biggest crop the South ever produced and no well informed man thinks that is possible. Then why hang such a mill stonearound the farmer's neck and subject his market to such a strain? I do not criticize your estimate of a probable yield of 15,166,000 bales although I think it is considerably high and time, of course, will tell, but I do earnestly protest your going further and forecasting a maximum production of 16,379,000.

"Suppose the weather bureau after getting data from all over the country, should predict that a given section tomorrow would be fair, provided it is not cloudy and provided further it does not rain; it would become the laughing stock of the country, yet the situation, in my opinion, is no different from your estimating that the probable yield of cotton will be 15,166,000 bales, provided there is not a minimum yield of 14,100,000 bales and provided further, there is not a maximum yield of 16,379,000 bales. Such figures are ridiculous.

"What you should do is to make every effort to get correct information and then give us the estimate based on this information and let it stand until you are ready to give out another estimate based on later information. If that is not to be your method, then the sooner your whole crop reporting is discontinued, the better it will be for all concerned. Let us rely on the ginner's reports of cotton actually ginned for our information. I am sending copy of this telegram to all members of Congress from the South and requesting them to give you their views.

"EUGENE BLACK."

FORMER SOLDIER KILLED IN FIGHT WITH ANOTHER

KERRVILLE, Tex., Sept. 9.—A fight between two former soldiers of the World war a week ago resulted fatally today for L. Ledbetter, patient at the Legion hospital here. He died from the effects of pistol wounds received in the neck when he is alleged to have attacked S. R. Curtis, another patient, with a billiard cue.

Curtis, who fired one shot from an automatic pistol, was charged with murder and released under $2,000 bond following Ledbetter's death. He previously had been at liberty on $1,000 bond made immediately after the shooting, which is said to have occurred in Curtis' room.

Both men were tubercular patients. Ledbetter, a former citizen of Oklahoma, leaves a wife and one child.

Peavey Seems to Have Nomination

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 9 (AP)—H. H. Peavey, congressman from the 11th Congressional District, was renominated as republican candidate on the face of unofficial returns today. Congressman Peavy who is a LaFollette republican was opposed by Ray J. Nye, a supporter of Senator Lenroot. Mr. Nye is Federal Prohibition Director for the western district of Wisconsin. The vote with eleven precincts missing was Peavey 18,469; Nye, 17,065.

Two men, shot to death as they emerged from the Red River National bank of Clarksville with a loot of $33,125, were identified last night as the same two that robbed the Irving State bank fifteen days ago.

Sheriff Schuyler Marshall and a party of Dallas officers reached Clarksville last night after being notified of the robbery and agreed that they were robbers of the Irving bank.

The men have been identified as D. L. Smallwood, prominent dairyman of Weatherford, and A. M. Slaton, 45, of Fort Worth.

The two men drove up beside the bank in a Cadillac car at 12:30, entered the building, forced the cashier, A. M. Graves, and four or five employes and officials of the bank into a vault and locked the door. All other customers present were forced to lie face down on the floor, and two little girls who appeared at the entrance badly frightened were roughly jerked into the bank by one of the robbers. They then raked all money in sight into a large handbag, the overflow going into a small sack which they carried, and walked out of the building toward their car. Witnesses say that the large man who carried the loot actually staggered under its weight.

Officers Open Fire

When they had gotten about ten feet from the entrance, Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, ex-Ranger Stewart Stanley of Clarksville and Constable Ivey opened fire on them, killing them almost instantly. It has not been fully determined whether the robbers returned the officers' fire, as some witnesses maintain that they did and others that they did not. A gun of one of the robbers was found to have been fired once and the magazine jammed, but it is possible that the shot may have been fired previously. F. Reddell of Blossom, who was in Clarksville at the time and who witnessed the entire affray, said that neither of the robbers had a chance to draw his gun. Approximately fifteen shots were fired. No one else was injured, though a windshield of a car was shattered by the bullets. The robbery and the shooting were both over in the space of ten minutes.

It is the concensus of opinion that the officers were acting on a tip that a robbery was to be staged, were awaiting the arrival of the robbers and shot them as they fled from the bank with the loot.

When the two robbers entered the bank, Captain Hickman and ex-Ranger Stanley were seated on the running board of an automobile on the public square, less than one hundred feet from the bank entrance. S. E. Stanley, father of ex-Ranger Stanley, occupied a position on the second floor of the Donoho building, across the street from the bank.

Seven in Bank

T. E. Williams, assistant cashier of the bank, said that five officials, including himself, and two customers of the bank were in the building when the robbers, with drawn pistols, entered.

The men immediately began flourishing their pistols and said "Get 'em up and get 'em high," he declared. The seven men were then marched to the rear of the bank, where the robbers made them lie down in front of a vault where books were kept. While one of the robbers kept the seven covered with his pistol and threat-

Air Corps Wins Liberty Trophy

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9. (AP)—The United States army air corps won the Liberty engine builders' trophy for the 144-mile race for observation type airplanes at the national air races here today. Lieut. O. L. Stevens, flying a Curtiss Falton plane, covered the distance at a speed of 142.26 miles an hour. Second place was won by Capt. Aubrey Hornsby, United States army, who also flew a Curtiss Falton. Lieut. G. T. Owens, United States navy, flying a special DH plane, was third. The event was open to military aviators only.

BANK ROBBERS HOLD TWO WOMEN AT BAY

SELMA, Ala., Sept. 9. (AP)—Holding two women employes at bay with pistols two men today scooped up $6,400 in cash from the Orrville Bank and Trust company at Orrville, near here, and escaped in an automobile.

The robbery took place when B. E. Dunaway, cashier, was at lunch.

Officers took the trail after the robbers shortly after the holdup.

NEWMAN PHILLIPS,
Judge 62nd District.

Wheeler Argues First

The argument of the case was begun shortly before noon with C. A. Wheeler, of the attorney general's office, speaking first for the proponents. Mr. Wheeler in his argument emphasized the right of the individual of testamentary capacity to dispose of his property as he saw fit. He stated that every man is in a position to determine what is satisfactory to him in the disposal of his property better than anyone else and that it makes no difference what might be thought of the wisdom of the disposition. Mr. Wheeler cited the testimony of a number of witnesses of the contestants in which instances were given of acts attributed to the decedent, which the contestants were expected to contend indicated that Mr. McDonald was of unsound mind. He stated that these instances were only of a trivial nature and that such instances happened in everyone's life. He said that they could be easily mis-interpreted as indicating an unsound mind, by lack of knowledge of the surrounding facts and the probability of a reasonable motive behind the act.

Mr. Wheeler spoke of the fact that many friends, business acquaintances of Mr. McDonald had testified that he was of sound mind in their opinion and especially stressed the fact that the physicians who had attended him during the years of illness had testified the same.

Park Cites Statutes

A. P. Park followed Mr. Wheeler in presenting the opening argument for the contestants. Mr. Park in the opening of his argument cited the law of descent and distribution as laid down by the legislature. He said that certain relatives had been omitted from this will which, under the law if there was no valid will, come into a part of the estate. He stated that it was in testimony that Mr. McDonald in one will had made a bequest to his sister-in-law and that in the last had omitted her name and this he contended was due to forgetfulness and a mind obsessed upon astronomy. Mr. Park emphasized the contention that the jury may look to the provisions of the will in determining the testamentary capacity of the testator. Mr. Park pointed out from the testimony purported instances which he contended showed that Mr. McDonald had a fear of poverty, others that indicated that he did not know the nature and extent of his property. He further stated that Mr. McDonald's physical weakness was bringing about his corresponding mental weakness according to the expert witnesses.

W. A. Hutchison spoke after Mr. Park continuing the argument of the proponents. His arguments on testimony of the contestants was directed to minimize its importance. It was his contention that the evidence of expert witnesses could not change the testimony of those who knew the decedent intimately. Mr. Hutchison stressed the point that the doctors who had attended Mr. McDonald during his illiness had all testified that in their opinion his mind was sound.

G. N. Harrison of Brownwood, attorney for the contestants, presented the last argument of yesterday's session. He stated that if the testator in this case was of sound mind that he was unsound in every other particular.

ened to shoot any one who attempted to move or make an outcry, the other began gathering up all the money there was in sight.

"The robber entered the vault and took all the money from the safe," Williams said. He then went from drawer to drawer in front of the tellers' windows and raked all the money into a suitcase which he had brought into the bank.

Ran to Automobile

"After the man had gathered up the money and closed the suitcase, he called to his confederate and together, still keeping the seven covered with their pistols, they backed into the street from the bank and started toward an automobile which they had left parked at the curb with the engine running."

The shooting started as soon as the men got into the street.

The officers were in the street and saw the robbers when they entered the bank. They remained until the robbers stepped out of the bank.

A fussilade of shots rang out as the men stepped upon the sidewalk, Williams said. When the smoke cleared, the two men lay dead.

Hickman Tells of Robbery

Captain Hickman gives the following version of the affair.

"Ranger Sergeant Stuart Stanley and Constable Ivy and I were standing on the square at a point where we could see the bank. We saw two men walk across the street and go into the bank. One of them was carrying a large sack.

"We became suspicious and moved nearer the bank.

"They were in the bank only a few minutes and came out fast. They were both carrying sacks of money in their arms.

"We fired on them and they retufned the fire. Stanley dropped one of the bandits and Constable Ivy got the other."

Denies He Was "Tipped Off"

Captain Hickman said he was not in possession of any advance information that the bank was to be robbed.

"Just happened to be in town," he said. "Stanley and I were standing on the square getting ready to leave."

B. L. Smallwood the larger of the two was a brother-in-law of Bud Smallwood owned and ran a big dairy about twenty miles from Ft. Worth, near Weatherford. He was first seen near Clarksville on Monday when he spent the night at the home of S. L. Whiteman, also his brother-in-law. On that same day he took dinner with Bud Whitemen and spoke of trying to sell some of his property, which was ostensibly his purpose for being in the city. He was a large and rather fine-looking man, though at the time of the robbery he was dressed shabbily and wore a heavy growth of beard.

Both men were said to have on shoes that were not mates.

Smallwood was married and leaves a large family. His wife was notified of her husband's death and left immediately for Clarksville to take charge of the body.

A poll tax receipt issued in Tarrant county identified the smaller of the two men as A. M. Slaton of Fort Worth, but aside from that nothing more is known of him.

The car in which the men came to town was a 1917 model Cadillac. The officers found a rifle and a shotgun in it hidden under a coat.

Will Campbell, Clarksville druggist, formerly of Paris, in front of whose store the shooting occurred, was in Paris yesterday afternoon and told a graphic story of the whole affair.

According to Mr. Campbell the officers appeared at his store some seventeen minutes before the robbery and asked him not to let anyone pass by, as there would probably be shooting.

When the robbers appeared Mr. Campbell said there were three of them, two wearing masks entering the bank. Meanwhile, the officers were seated on the running board of a car parked near the store, but they were on the side of the car opposite the entrance of the bank. With them it was apparently a matter of coolly waiting for the robbers to reappear.

As the bandits emerged from the bank carrying the loot in a large suitcase, the officers allowed them to go about ten feet toward their car and then Captain Hickman gave the word to fire. They carefully aimed at the robbers, shooting over the radiator of their car, and delivered a steady fire.

At his third shot at the robbers, Captain Hickman's rifle jammed and he then used his pistol. All of the shots apparently took effect, as there were no marks on the side of the building to indicate otherwise, according to Mr. Campbell.

After the officers had ceased firing and were going toward the bodies, one of the latter appeared to move, and Captain Hickman stilled it with a final shot.

GEORGIA RETURNS SENATOR TO POST

World Court Advocate Given Democratic Re-Nomination, Equal to Election.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 9.—Georgia democratic voters upheld the World court stand of United States Senator Walter F. George at the state-wide primary yesterday by returning him to office with a sweeping majority over his opponent, R. B. Russell, chief justice of the supreme court. Incomplete returns today gave George a popular vote of 39,428 votes, against 20,737 for Russell.

In unit votes this gave George 220 and Russell 40. Two hundred and eight unit votes are necessary for a choice. The democratic nomination in Georgia is equivalent to election.

In the race for governor, Dr. L. G. Hardman was leading his three opponents with 136 unit votes. John N. Holder was second with 114; George Carswell third, with 76, and Joe Wood fourth, with 8. This indicated 29 counties for Carswell, 51 for Hardman, 43 for Holder and four for Wood.

Congressman E. E. Cox, Charles R. Crisp, W. C. Wright, Sam Rutherford, Carl Vinson, W. C. Langford and W. W. Larsen were unopposed for renomination.

W. D. Upshaw, congressman from the fifth (Atlanta) district, was defeated by Leslie J. Steele of Decatur, Ga. Mayor Walter A. Sims of Atlanta, ran second and Upshaw third.

THEATRES

At the Plaza

Ben Lyon is wondering whether or not it pays to play the "hero" in a picture. The picture was "The Savage," which has just been released by First National, and opens today at the Plaza for a two-day run.

You see, Ben, who plays the title role, was down in Florida running around garbed in a goat skin and bare feet. For days he dashed about the sand of the seashore and the undergrowth of swampy sections that resembles a section of the jungle. Ben's feet were all cut up, and so was Ben, for that matter. But such is art.

However, the straw that broke the camel's back, as it were, in Ben's case came after Ben had cavorted for more than a week and devoted his evenings to patching up scarred feet and anointing sunburned spots with soothing lotions. Then followed a scene in which Sam Hardy, the heavy, sits in ease and comfort neath a palm tree. Before Sam is a table overflowing with ice, seltzer water, tall glasses and the liquid to put in them. Sam sits and drinks and fans himself. But poor Ben during all this was forced to stay out in the hot sun eating bananas. Most of a day was thus spent.

"I wish that fellow Hardy had this title role for a day or so," declared Ben when Director Newmeyer called it a day.

HANDLE FACTORY TO RESUME OPERATIONS

Captain L. N. Kimmerer, manager of the handle factory plant of the Ames Shovel and Tool company at Paris, which has been shut down for a long time, stated Thursday that it would be eventually started up again.

When questioned as to the probable date when it would resume operation he replied that all he could say was that they expected to resume "some day."

They had no idea of permanently shutting down the plant, he stated. He might get an order any day to open up, he said.

BYRDTOWN GIN MAY BE REBUILT

The burning of the gin at Byrdtown, southeast of Blossom, Tuesday night, will make it very inconvenient for a good many farmers of that section who will have to haul their cotton several miles to the nearest gin, it is declared.

Visitors who were in the city Thursday, however, stated that there was a prospect of the gin being replaced in time to gin the greater part of the crop.

The gin was owned by G. C. Clem of Ozark and he had some insurance. He is reported to have stated that he will rebuild immediately if he can get the insurance adjusted in time.

The engine and boiler and some other parts of the machinery that were in the burned building can be used in the building of the new gin, it was stated, and it is believed that a new gin can be put up to take the place of it within twenty days.

BAPTIST DORCAS CLASS HOLDS REGULAR MEET

The Dorcas Class of First Baptist church, taught by Mrs. A. W. Lattimore, held its monthly business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Smith Tuesday afternoon with eleven members present.

Mrs. C. T. Jordan, mother of Mrs. Smith, was a visitor for the afternoon.

After an interesting business session, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Watt Williams in serving a cream course.

The next meeting place will be announced later.

RECOVERING FROM PTOMAINE POISON

B. E. Deam, postoffice inspector with headquarters at Paris, is just recovering from a severe attack of ptomaine poison and was able to be out Thursday, but is still feeling weak.

The poison was contracted in eating something on a dining car while traveling last Friday, he declared.

He became ill after reaching Texarkana. On Saturday morning he boarded a train to come to Paris, but became so sik and weak on the way that he was taken from the train at Clarksville.

He remained there until Sunday before he was able to resume the trip back home. While he is able to be up and to get around he is still too weak to resume his official work.

BOY FOUND IN ROOM WITH TOP OF HEAD BLOWN OFF

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 9. Taylor Keene, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keene of Lyford, was found in a room at his home last night with the top of his head blown off by a bullet from a high-powered rifle. The gun lay beside the chair in which the boy was sitting. The family was eating supper when the report of the rifle was heard, the boy having left the table a few minutes previous.

COTTON SEED MARKET OPENING IS DELAYED

The cottonseed market has not opened up at Paris yet and no announcement has been made as to what would be paid for seed. A cottonseed buyer stated Thursday that the reason the market has not opened is because there has been no movement in cottonseed.

The delay in the opening of the market and in the movement of seed is on account of the continued wet weather, it was explained. The moisture keeps the seed green in the lint and after the cotton is ginned the seed are slow in drying out.

This being the case, seed cannot be handled in bulk without being in great danger of rotting. Where they are piled up during prolonged damp weather they become heated in a day or two. They have to be scatterd in order to prevent them from getting heated and rotting, it was asserted.

In 1921 several gins in Lamar county and a good many farmers lost seed from becoming heated and rotting. It was estimated that a hundred tons or more were lost around Direct, and a good many around Chicota.

TEXAS JUSTICE

THE heritage of pioneer Texans that made them shoot road bandits on sight and hang cattle thieves and horse thieves after "a fair and impartial trial" lasting only five or ten minutes after they were caught in the act has reasserted itself. Two masked bank robbers who risked the lives of dozens of persons in Clarksville yesterday were shot to death by two state rangers and a Red River county constable as they emerged from a bank with drawn revolvers at noon.

Apparently the bandits did not have time to shoot. The jeopardy of the drawn revolver was removed by Rangers Tom Hickman, Stuart Stanley and Constable Ivy as soon as the bandits got within range of high-powered rifles. The mark of the intrepid officers was not missed once, despite the fact that Hickman was forced to resort to his pistol when his Winchester jammed.

Of course it was a terrible scene that was enacted coolly before the gaze of numerous persons who were actually expecting it and were on the spot to witness it. But there are many more who would have liked to see it. It is also a terrible thing for an innocent bystander or a bank employe to be killed in ruthless robbery of a bank—thieving of people's funds. It is also a terrible thing for lives of men to be placed in jeopardy by the type of desperate criminal who has so little regard for conformity with the laws made by a civilized conscience. It is this type of man who enters a home at night with drawn revolver, accidentally encounters the occupant in the darkness of night, fires a fatal shot into the heart of the father of innocent children and the husband of a tender wife—and escapes.

He is not entitled to a chance at escape. He should be shot down under any circumstances under which it is certain that his mission is robbery or improper trespass on another's premises.

This sort of action will curb banditry and robbery—and nothing else will.

PREMATURE OBITUARIES

NOW that a match to determine whether the heavyweight boxing title is to remain with Dempsey or go to one of the challengers. Gene Tunney, is a certainty; the public, if it believes what it reads, learns that the champion has always been more or less of an amateur as a boxer and through long separation from the prize ring and lack of training is now a poor amateur.

It is "discovered" that Jim Jefferies finished Corbett expeditiously with a smashing left and that he needed only one blow to knock Bob Fuzsimmons cold in Frisco. Hank Griffin went down for the count of ten before a single punch from the boilmaker's paw. And then they compare—or rather contrast—these exhibitions of fistic perfection with Dempsey's terrific struggles to gain the heavyweight crown and keep it. The present champion had to floor Willard twelve times before the latter surrendered the championship belt. Carpenter came up from the floor for more punishment. Firpo was on the mat nine times before Dempsey delivered the final sleep-maker. And in each of these combats the champion received blows which sent him to the floor or through the ropes.

But what is the motive of all this depreciation of the titleholder's skill? Why do promoters of the "big fight" send out propaganda belittling the ability of their star performer?

The reason is apparent. Promoters of sporting events know that the public won't pay to see a "sure thing." The fight fan doesn't want it decided until the referee says "ten." And then there is that element which will pay for a ringside seat if he thinks there is a chance that an Olympian will fall.

So it is discovered that Dempsey is champion today only through the good graces of the Fates, birth under a lucky star or just pure luck and that the heavyweight title is as much as Tunney's already.

A ban on white bread is proposed as one of Belgium's measures for economy to improve the Belgian franc. We did not know the franc had been living too high.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

IN BEHALF OF THE DOVE

From Corsicana Sun:

MANY people in Corsicana and Navarro county feel that September 1 is too early to open the season on doves. In fact, the Sun has received a number of communications in which it is pointed out that doves in this section of the state are not yet through hatching their eggs and raising their young.

One of the communications received by the Sun and signed "An Observant Farmer" points out that "Since September 1st, our beautiful dove (emblem of peace) is being hunted and killed by the thousands. All day long guns are booming and we sorrowfully note the result. Any of these men or boys who are conscientious will admit that the season has opened a month too early. It is not unusual to find the birds setting or to find little ones in the nest starving on account of the sport found in killing the parent birds. This is deplorable, but the wrong cannot be righted because the law allows it. Hope before this time next year this mistake may be rectified and this bird left unharmed for a month or two longer. They are a fine game bird so give them a chance to multiply."

Another communication from Mr. T. C. McMullan points out that thousands of young doves are being left in their nests to starve and many eggs are left unhatched because the mother bird has been killed

Continuing he says: "I believe I am expressing the sentiment of every sportsman when I say it is a disgrace to any country to pretend to protect wild life and open the season on doves when they are raising." Mr. McMullan relates an instance of one hunter killing a dove off her nest as well as killing two of her young ones at the same time. "It is my belief that if doves and quail are to be protected," writes Mr. McMullan, "the season should be open on both at the same time. Now don't think I am one of those goody, good non-shooters for I am not. I love a day afield with my gun as well as anybdy, but I know this dove season is all wrong and am willing to do my best to have it changed before the 1927 season opens, and if it is not changed we farmers should prohibit hunting on our land before October 15. I believe the Izaak Walton League could help us in this matter."

NO NEWSPAPER MAN IS AN ISOLATIONIST IN NEWS

From Dallas News:

SOME newspapers which deserve the name preach isolation. But they do not practice it. No newspaper could and remain a newspaper in the sense that the world has come to know the word. John Wesley claimed the world as his parish. And it is the editor's, too. Likewise it is the reporter's. Reflections of the sort are prompted by the gathering of newsgatherers and disseminators at Geneva for the World Press Congress.

One of the problems which will be much discussed there will be the freedom of newspaper dispatches to travel everywhere upon an equal basis. It is as much against enlightened national interest as it is against world interest for the people of any country to read one account of what is going on and for the world to read another. Some such divergence of view and of information is bound to occur under conditions of general cable censorship by governmental interference. That sort of thing forces the existence of misunderstanding, prejudice and ignorance. And out of these come wars, and out of wars misery.

Freedom of legitimate news will not assure peace, of course. The thing is not as simple as that. But the ready ingress and egress of reliable information is the best evidence that all is well with the point of arrival and departure, whereas fearfulness as expressed in political censorship is usually justified by the shakiness of the regime which is forced to resort to that policy.

But it is necessary also that all major news agencies be given suitable opportunity and reasonable facilities to obtain the news of the world. In competition between services we have our best guarantee of swift and reliable service. And in that end every country in the civilized world has an interest. The World Peace Congress, we may be sure, therefore, will go on record as favoring no preferential position for the semi-governmental services. At least the American and British sentiment should be found wholly upon that side of the question. To representatives of some European governments, of course, news is not news, but a chain of influence let loose to mold in a prearranged shape the opinion of a chosen public. That idea, naturally enough, can not survive. In proportion as it hangs on the publication of a real newspaper is it practically impossible.

SOVIET'S FRILLS DO NOT SATISFY RUSSIA'S WORKERS

By F. J. RAMSEY,
American Y. M. C. A. worker in interview on recent return from tour of Russia.

RUSSIAN workers are dissatisfied in spite of the many "frills" introduced by the bolsheviki. Wages are no higher than under the old czarist regime and after all it is wages that determine the worker's attitude.

One finds much to praise and much to condemn in Russia today. Private ownership is recognized now. Peasants have the right to sell their farm products and buy what they need.

Small shops and businesses are allowed under private operation. Of course the government owns and operates all the major industries.

A mammoth program of education is under way. Universal education of children is being brought about and tens of thousands of adults are being taught. The soviet hopes to increase literacy from 20 per cent of the population to 50 per cent within ten years.

Women in industry are given equal rights and pay with men. An expectant mother is given two months vacation with pay before birth of the child and an equal period afterward. She receives a state dole during the infancy of the child for its support.

Every worker is given two weeks' vacation with pay and free transportation to one of the many national rest camps. These are generally at a beautiful country estate formerly belonging to some rich nobleman or bourgeoise.

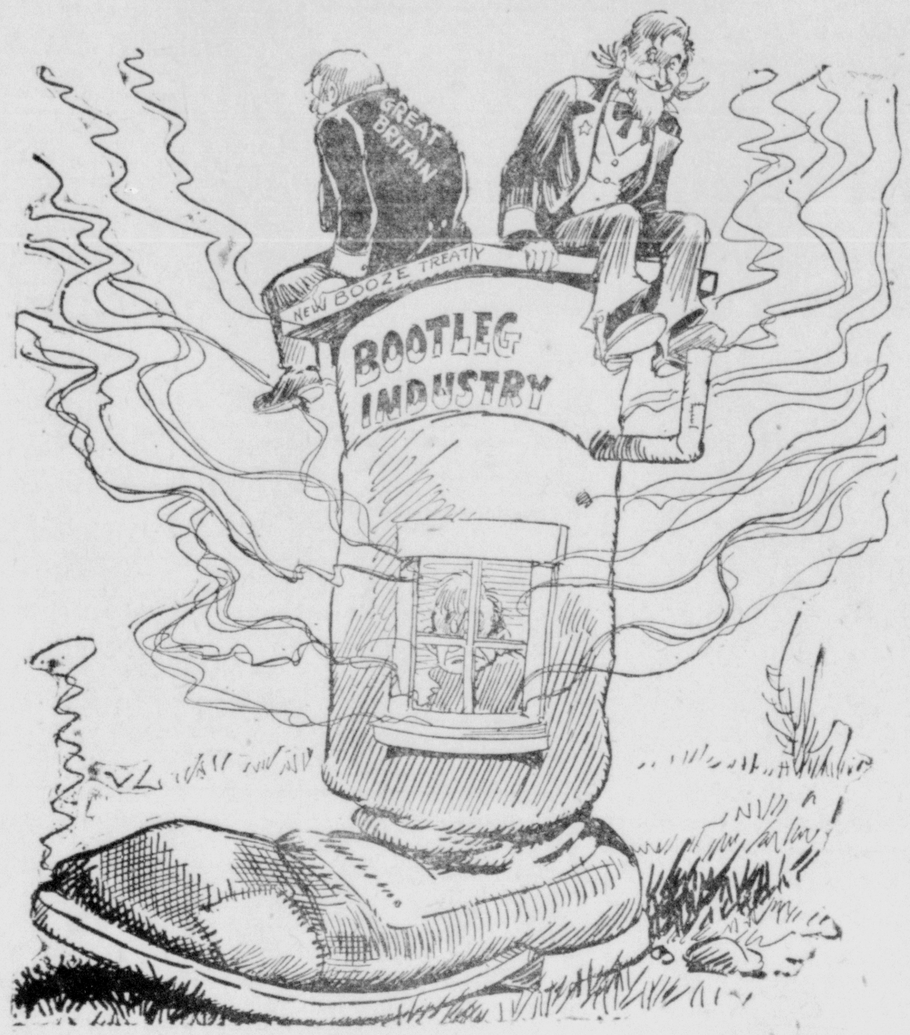
On the other hand, there is no personal, political or religious freedom in Russia. The espionage system is worse than under the czar.

Banishment to the exile regions of Siberia is still the punishment for political offenses. I was told that these regions now contain more prisoners than in czarist times. All publications are under the thumb of the bolsheviki.

Although the communist party numbers less than a million members, it rules absolutely. All nominations to office are made by the party. Voters can only choose between two communists.

From my personal viewpoint, one of the greatest offenses of the soviet is the teaching of anti-religion. Children are taught atheism in the national schools and anti-religious posters of the most bitter nature dot the bulletin boards of the country.

Somebody Else Who Lives in a Shoe



ANDREW AND IMOGENE

By Roe Fulkerson

ANDREW AND IMOGENE ... ..

"It would be wonderful to own a yacht like Bill's," suggested Imogene.

"It is," agreed Andrew.

"How nice it would be to take a few friends for week ends. I could entertain at bridge on board in the afternoons and if we had company from out of town it would be a dandy way to amuse them. As I drive along the river and see people sailing out of the harbor on a yacht I envy them a lot.

"Why can't we buy a boat?" We could give up some other things. You often talk of buying a summer cottage down on the shore. If we had a nice yacht we would not have to buy the cottage but could just anchor the yacht any place we liked and live there.

"Lots of other people have nice things like that. I do not see why we couldn't!" She was feeling very sorry for herself by the time she finished.

"We could have a yacht if you would be willing to give up other things for it," agreed Andrew cherfully.

"Really?" she asked excitedly.

"Yep," exclaimed Andrew. "Take Bill's boat for an example. It is a mahogany finished seventy-five footer. It cost about twenty-five thousand dollars, I guess. We could get twenty-five thousand for this new house. Of course we would have to live in a one room kitchenette and bath apartment in the winter when we could not live on board the yacht.

"We could sell the two cars, because we would not have any use for them when we had our life upon the rolling wave, our home upon the deep, as it were. It takes seventeen gallons of gasoline each hour to keep Bill's boat going and he makes a little better than twelve miles on that amount. We could not afford to use gas to drive such a foolish thing as a little automobile.

"We would have to let Edna the cook go, too. We would have no use for her because we would have to have a man cook on the yacht. Bill is very lucky in his cook. He is not only a good cook but he is not a union cook and so does not scorn to help make the beds and keep the floor swept.

"The captain of the yacht is a good man and only costs Bill two hundred a month and found. All Bill has to buy extra is his uniforms which consist of nice blue suits for state occasions and whites for actual sailing days. These white suits he buys for the cook, the engineer, and the captain, as well as the general handy man who waits on the table and runs the dingy which takes passengers to and from the wharf. I guess the four men and the gas all told cost Bill about a thousand dollars a month. This is of course outside wharfage and membership in the yacht club.

"All we would have to do would be to sell the house, the furniture and the cars, dispense with the cook and go wtihout clothes and furs and things like that. We could drop our membership in the country club and live in bathing suits most of the time. You wouldn't need to go to the beauty parlor, for living on the yacht the way we would, the wind would blow all the curl out of your hair. You would soon get that nice leathery complexion which comes as a result of life on the wafer and—"

"I wish you would not be absurd!" interrupted his wife.

"I'll tell you what we will do," went on Andrew, "I will trade in my car for a truck and we will buy a canoe and keep it in the garage. We can load it on the truck and take it down to the river. I would like to see you give a bridge party in a canoe. I will sit on the river drive in the truck and watch you as you paddle out of the harbor. That's about our speed so far as the yachting game is concerned."

"I'd like to see myself trade our nice new house for a smelly old boat!" said Imogene.

DINNER STORIES

A sportsman with a wonderful power of imagination was telling how at one shot he had bagged two partridges and a rabbit. His explanation was that, though he had hit only one partridge, the bird in falling had clutched another partridge and brought that to earth entangled in its claws.

"But how about the rabbit?" he was asked.

"Oh," was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me over and I fell on the rabbit as it ran past.

Sister Brown had been testifying at the weekly prayer meetings, of the waywardness of her daughter who would rather go to dances than to church. This had been going on for weeks in spite of the feeble protests of her husband. Finally at one of these prayer meetings she arose with new testimony. She concluded thus:

"And now that my daughter is going to be married, this burden has been lifted from my shoulders and placed on that of a man. I am so happy that if I had one more feather in my wings I would fly to heaven.

But in the general chorus of "Amens," no one heard the mutterings of her husband, who grunted.

"O Lord, stick it in and let her fly."

POEMS OF LOVE

By Charles Hanson Towne

"A Serenade," by Sir Walter Scott.

This simple song, with its everlasting lover's question, loses nothing, placed beside other serenades. It has the lilt and beauty such verses should possess; and if one finds it almost too simple, he should remember that this kind of amiable loveliness is not easy of accomplishment.

Ah! County Guy, the hour is nigh,
The sun has left the lea,
The orange flower perfumes the bower,
The breeze is on the sea,
The lark, his lay who trilled all day,
Sits hushed his partner nigh;
Breeze, bird and flower confess the hour,
But where is County Guy?

The village maid steals through the shade
Her shepherd's suit to hear;
To beauty shy, by lattice high,
Sings high-born Cavalier.
The star of Love, all stars above,
Now reigns o'er earth and sky,
And high and low the influence know—
But Where is County Guy?

Our Daily Health

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., U. S. Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health New York City

I have a letter from a reader in Ohio asking for an article on colitis. She wants to know what is the proper treatment for this ailment.

Anatomists divide the intestinal tract into two parts. The upper part is known as the small intestines. The lower part is the large intestine, or, as it is usually called, the colon.

The colon is lined with a mucous membrane just as is all of the passages of the body are lined. For instance, the bronchial tubes are lined with a mucous membrane. This membrane, no matter where it is found, is liable to infection and to catarrhal inflammation. When the lining of the bronchial tubes is involved in this way we call the disease bronchitis. When the lining of the large intestine is infected and inflamed we call the disease colitis.

Doctors classify diseases in a general way as acute or chronic. We have an acute bronchitis, such as follows a cold. We have chronic bronchitis, such as old people suffer from a good many times.

Likewise there may be an acute colitis, which is described as "dysentery." Then we have chronic colitis, particularly mucous or muco-membranous colitis. Undoubtely it is this particular form of colitis which my corespondent wishes to have described.

May I say in the beginning that mucous colitis is a very obstinate ailment? Even though it may not be serious so far as life is concerned, it is difficult to treat.

Unfortunately, there may be some underlying disturbance of a serious nature. A growth in the pelvic region may place pressure upon the colon or may involve the colon. This is why the wise doctor will make a thorough examination to be sure that the colitis is not secondary to something more important.

There are just enough uncomfortable symptoms associated with mucous colitis to keep its victim worried and unhappy. There is a feeling of discomfort in the abdomen and occasional attacks of colic. These symptoms act as a constant reminder of the diseases In consequence the victim has his mind on himself all the time.

These uncomfortable symptoms are made worse every time there is the slightest indiscretion in diet. Excitement of any sort is apt to bring on an acute attack of colitis.

Colitis may not have diarrhea as a constant symptom. On the contrary there may be periods when the bowels will be quite constipated. As the disease progresses, however constipation is rarely present, and a diarhelc condition of the bowels is the rule.

There are few diseases which have been more discussed as to the best method of treatmnt. I shall try to outline a procedure which will add to the comfort of the patient. It will not do away with the need of the physician by any means, because it is important for the family doctor to have constant knowledge of the condition of the patient in order to prescribe intelligently.

If there is much pain, and especially if there is any degree of fever, the patient should stay in bed. Rest and quiet are of the greatest importance.

The colicky pains are often relieved by the use of hot fomentations applied to the abdomen. A large towel can be wrung out of water as hot as can be borne, and placed over the abdomen. Over this may be placed a dry towel. As soon as the heat subsides the towel should be dipped again in the hot water. Bear in mind all the time that it is heat which is the important thing.

I will reserve my comments on the diet for another article. I simply wish to say this, however, that all foods which may contain coarse material should be strained before eating.

NEW YORK—A society girl is to marry a doctor who is suffering in a hospital from blood poisoning contracted from a charity patient. Miss Adele Bowne Carpenter, sister-in-law of Consulo Vanderbilt Smith's mother, is engaged to Dr. Robert E. Brennan, who was brought up in Louisville.

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y.—Miss Anne Huntington Tracy, niece of the late Mrs. Pierpont Morgan, is to marry Prince Simon Constantine Sidamon-Eristoff, who fought for Russia and is now a mechanical engineer in Bayonne, N. J.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The beauties seem to have brought prosperity to the shore with them. A total of $5,147,949 was deposited in the city's banks in one day, breaking records.

LONDON—Andrew W. Mellon, who is quoted by a journalist as saying he has not seen the slightest sign of any lack of prosperity in Europe, presumably is contributing some more to that prosperity by having his portrait painted here.

PARIS—And now the potato bug is threatening Franco-American relations. The growers say that the pest, which is beyond control, comes from across the Atlantic, but they don't seem to be aware of the American remedy—Paris green.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y.—Black bass are eluding distinguished Vermonters. The president and Attorney General Sargent rode forty miles and fished until long after dark without any luck.

BROOK, Ind.—Hoosiers stick together. George Ade has written New York Herald-Tribune concerning the use of material from one of his stories in a novel by Theodore Dreiser: "Most of our guild are at work on tiny structures which stay close to the ground. Mr. Dreiser is putting up skyscrapers. If in building up one of his massive structures he used a brick from my pile, goodness knows he is welcome."

KILLS SHERIFF AND DEPUTY, IS SLAIN HIMSELF

Gun Battle Results When Man Resists Arrest on Two Dollar Fine.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 9, (AP)—Granville Holben, farmer, killed a sheriff and his deputy last night rather than pay a fine of $2. Then Holben was shot to death while fleeing from his burning home where he had barricaded himself to prevent capture.

Sheriff Mark Sensenbach and Deputy Sheriff Harry Siegfried went to Holben's home to serve a warrant calling for the farmer's appearance in court to be sentenced for failure to send his children to school.

Mrs. Holben informed the officers that her husband would not give himself up. Meanwhile, Holben came across a field with a shotgun over his shoulder. He ordered the officers off the premises and opened fire when they refused to comply. The shot went wild and Holben fled into his house and barricaded himself. The sheriff induced Holben's daughter to ask her father to surrender. Her father finally gave her the gun. When Sensenbach and Siegfried started to enter, the farmer wrested the weapon from his daughter and let both barrels go. Siegfried was instantly killed and Sensenbach died on the way to the hospital.

Mortally Wounded

Several policemen and state motor patrolmen hurried to the farm, sixteen miles away, in response to telephone calls. Efforts to dislodge Holben were fruitless and two other officers were slightly wounded during the siege, which continued several hours.

The officers then set a hen house near the dwelling on fire. Finally the flames spread to the farmhouse and Holben called to his dog, "Here Ted; come here, Ted!" A few minutes later he dashed from a rear door. A few shots brought him to earth, mortally wounded.

Holben, his neighbors said, styled himself the "Son of God" and had the hallucination that the world was soon to end. He made no effort to till his land last spring because of this belief.

The offense which he was convicted of last January and which he appealed "for a principle" carried a maximum sentnce of $2 fine and costs or five days in jail.

Mother Kills Four of Six Children at Will of 'Holy Ghost'

Central Press Photo

At the injunction of the "Holy Ghost," Mrs. R. Scott Allen, of Laurel, Miss., killed four of her six children. Such, at least, is the motive she gives. She is a bible student of long standing and is seen here at the jail door, bible in hand. She does not explain the "divine inspiration" of the murders, expressing only regret that two children escaped her slaying ax.

Builds New Bridges

County Commissioner T. H. Booth has just finished having two new bridges installed each of which is a hundred feet long, in the northeast part of the county. One of them is located at the Baker farm on Pine creek, six miles east of Powderly. The other was put in two miles southeast of Womack's store on Pine creek.

The Red Ball Station

(By W. H. EVANS)

I am "weary and ill at ease,"
I have the headache, and wobbly knees;
A chicken banquet, a party late,
A foggy mind, and heavy pate.

'Twas the Busman's party in gay Paree,
A midnight ride—'twas late for me;
'Twas a bunch of men in a noisy bus,
W could not talk for so much fuss.

Five Red Ball Lines with station grand,
Prepared a feast for the inner man;
Through the Gibraltar Hotel the station came
For traffic's convenience was the hotel's aim.

No station here in the Texas land
Affords such comfort for the traveling man;
The station's attached to the hotel fine,
At once it quiets the nervous mind.

The lines are called by the porter there,
While the passengers wait in an easy chair;
The service is good, the fare is right,
The Bus Lines run both day and night.

Paris is awake—its up-to-date,
She's removed her walls; also the gate;
She's building fast, she's building true,
She extends a welcome to me, to you.

ANOTHER LaFOLLETTE MAY BE IN POLITICS

JANESVILLE, Wis., Sept. 9. (AP)—The Janesville Gazette declared today that an independent progressive gubernatorial candidate, probably Phil La Follette, son of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette, will be placed in the field by the La Follette-Blaine progressives to seek election in November.

The newspaper says that it learns authoritatively that immediately upon receipt of word indicating the nomination of Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state, who defeated Attorney General Herman L. Ekern, "Madison ring" candidate, a call was issued for a meeting of progressives to consider placing an independent candidate in the field. Phil La Follette, present district attorney of Dane county, is mentioned most prominently.

THE point to remember when buying breakfast oats is that only Quaker Oats have the rich Quaker flavor that you want.

One package of oats without that flavor may spoil your breakfasts for a week.

The price you pay is the same. Thus "trying" a substitute is a folly. Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats has it. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed.

The Man Who Thought a Buggy Was Good Enough

In the old days, a solid, conservative citizen might sniff and tell you he didn't read advertising.

He didn't think so much of the horseless carriage, either. The telephone was newfangled, and an insult to the United States mails.

As for radio, aeroplanes, wireless photography—if they had been born then, he probably would have thought them a bit immoral.

But he's changed. He's been educated. His point of view has been made broader and more modern. He has been civilized—by the automobile, the telephone, radio, advertising.

Every single one has opened up new paths for him, taught him new things. Advertising, especially. Advertising tells him the newest things to wear, the best things to eat. Advertising tells his wife how to make a home up to date and attractive. Advertising tells him the prices to pay for things he buys, saves him from the old-fashioned ways of doing business—helps him live well, keeps him modern.

Advertising can help you. The advertisements in this newspaper are here to tell you many things that make life more comfortable, more interesting, happier. Read them faithfully. They'll keep you abreast of the times. They'll prevent you from becoming the type of old fogy who—sniff!—doesn't read advertising.

Ma Again Swells List of Pardons

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—Joe Brown sentenced from Dallas county to five years for manslaughter, in connection with the slaying of a night watchman, Wednesday was granted a conditional pardon by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

She also granted three extensions of furloughs. Records of the secretary of state's office show that during the past several days she has granted seven full and two conditional pardons, three furloughs, fifteen extensions of furloughs and one fine remission.

W. J. B. Goodman, former Oklahoma national guard captain and Tulsa university football player, was convicted of the same offense for which Brown was sentenced.

Those granted furlough extensions Wednesday: John Bilyou, Cottle, murder, five years, 30 days; R. L. Roach, Angelina, liquor violation, one year, 30 days; Russell Kuykendall, Dallas, theft, two years, 60 days.

DALLAS, Sept. 9—Brown was tried in Judge C. A. Pippen's court here last fall for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Nightwatchman C. S. Swinney, June 21, 1925. Brown was convicted of manslaughter and given five-year suspended sentence. This suspension of sentence was lifted, however, following a subsequent conviction of Brown in federal court here.

It is understood Brown is in Leavenworth serving a two-year sentence for violation of the Dyer act.

William Jennings Bryan Goodman, Tulsa football star and Oklahoma national guard captain, was tried also for the murder of Mr. Swinney. The two youths were together when Mr. Swinney was fatally shot early the morning of June 21, 1925, on Knox street and Katy crossing.

Goodman was represented by Maury Hughes and Ted Monroe. He was found guilty of manslaughter and given a five-year sentence. The case was appealed, reversed and remanded for a new trial.

CLARKSVILLE GETS TWO PARIS PLAYERS

Tigers and Paris All-Stars Preparing for Battle Sunday.

The Clarksville Tigers, in a praiseworthy endeavor to lick the Paris All-Stars next Sunday, have acquired the services of Johnny Cox as their mound artist, and also reached out and secured another Paris player to receive the shoots of the former city league star, Bill Terry is the lad who will handle "Long John" Sunday.

It will be quite a battle between Lefty Haynes, who will do the chunking for the all Stars, as both are topnotchers in their line. The Clarksville folks have a goodly array of talent, as besides Cox and Terry they will have Dad Giles and Trav Lowrance, Sowers and Gregory, Evans, Williams and Westbrook from Deport, all of whom are well known in this city.

Williams and Westbrook both had trials with the Bear Cats, and Evans played several games with the Cats during the month of July. West and Winters, all well known amateurs, will round out the Clarksville team for Sunday.

With Haynes and Ralston as the battery the All Stars will have "Hookslide" Sheffield, Dewey and Dave Robinson, Gene Logsdon, and others who are well known to Paris fans.

This game, starting Sunday at 3 o'clock, will have as umpire Rick Adams, perhaps one of the greatest of the really great lefthanders in the days when "men wuz men." Considerable interest has been aroused over the outcome of the Sunday combat, as it is a forerunner of numerous other battles here and at Clarksville.

VALENTINO LEAVES IMMENSE ESTATE

Names Brother and Sister and Aunt By Marriage As Equal Heirs.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—Rudolph Valentino bequeathed a third of his estate valued at more than $1,000,000 to Mrs. Teresa Werner, an aunt by marriage, who remained loyal to Valentino during his separation from his last wife, Natcha Rambova. The former wife, who is known in private life as Winifred Hudnut, is cut off with $1 by the terms of the will.

Announcement that Mrs. Werner is to share equally with Alberto and Maria Guglielmi, brother and sister of the dead actor, in the final distribution of the Valentino estate was made here yesterday by W. I. Gilbert, confidential attorney to Valentino. Gilbert has announced that he will file the document for probate tomorrow.

Ullman Named Executor

Mrs. Werner, an aunt of Natcha Rambova, is said to be in Nice with her sister, Mrs. Richard Hudnut and her niece. Her home is in Salt Lake City.

S. George Ullman, Valentino's manager, is named as executor without bond.

Attorney Gilbert professed to have had no knowledge of the existence of the will until he received word from Ullman in New York that the document would be turned over to him for filing. The will was dated September 1, 1925, and signed "Rudolph Guglielmi."

The will was said to have been drawn hurriedly at Valentino's request to supercede an earlier one made in New York in which Miss Rambova was named as the sole heir.

Leaves Over $1,000,000

Valentino left an estate worth in excess of $1,000,000, according to the estimate of Ullman. His real properties are appraised at a half million. This estimate does not include his rights in his last two pictures, "The Son of the Sheik" and "The Eagle," which are expected to result in a gross earning of more than a million dollars. A life insurance policy for $50,000 is included in the properties listed by Ullman.

For the Blue Ribbon Tennis Trophy of the World!

Once more America prepares to defend the Davis cup, the most coveted prize in the tennis firmament. Once more the "Big Four"—Bill Tilden, Bill Johnston, R. Norris Williams and Vincent Richards—will try to keep the cup where it has remained since 1920. But this year France, a threatening challenger in recent years, looms more formidable than ever in the challenge round. The French "Big Four" may wrest the honors from the veteran U. S. outfit. The French aces are Rene La Coste, Jean Borotra, Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon.

Hay Burner May Yet Be Reality In Motor Travel

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Grain dust taken from a grain elevator has been found to have sufficient explosive power to run an automobile engine.

Department of agriculture chemists, who conducted tests, announced today that while the engine did not make any prolonged, continuous run, enough power was developed with the dust to turn it over many times. A hand system of feeding the dust through a tube to the intake valve was employed.

The experimenters said the study gave "encouraging results which indicated the possibilities of designing an engine to use grain dust as the source of fuel."

Housekeeping a "Hobby."

LONDON, (AP)—Housekeeping is the latest hobby of British girls. Mrs. D. Cottingham-Taylor, director of the Institute of Housekeeping and Domestic Science, says most of this talk about the modern girl caring only for pleasure is rot.

"It is true that a conspicuous few women give the impression that modern woman is highly frivolous," she said, "but you may be assured there never was a time when women were more keenly interested in the home and its problems."

Russell is Rated High by Whitman

That Jack Russell, former Paris high school lad, who is serving his first season in the major league, is a glittering prospect, is evidenced by the following expression of Burt Whitman. Whitman is sports editor of the Boston Globe and special correspondent for the Sporting News, a national baseball publication.

Here is the bouquet Whitman hands Jack:

"Jack Russell, right now, is probably the most promising of any of the Red Sox right-handers. I believe he is the fastest runner on the entire squad. He hits the ball well, but, of course, his right-handed stuff on the rubber is what makes him a good pitching prospect. He, Hal (Lefty) Wiltse and Charley Ruffing ought to be the nucleus of the 1927 Sox flinging corps, with more or less help from the unknown and almost untried Danny MacFayden, the enigmatic Slim Harriss, the burly Fred (Lefty) Heimach, the stylish Fred Wingfield. Hard Luck Paul Zahniser, the hard-working Tony Welzer and the blond Del Lundgren."

Traitor Trailed Three Thousand Miles and Shot

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 9.—A 3,000-mile journey to murder the man who abandoned him in a Mexican jail, has ended successfully today for Benjamin H. Turner, mild-mannered little American accountant from Mexico City.

Tried in Mexico for murder, Turner said he was released three years ago and since has trailed James D. Hallen, a soldier of fortune with an international record for larceny, forgery and swindling operations, to "settle with him" for taking his life savings and then failing to defend him at his trial.

Turner accomplished his purpose at Hallen's home in Falmouth Foreside yesterday. Calling Hallen from the house, Turner pumped five bullets into his body, then told two terrified witnesses to "get the police. I won't run."

Turner's story and newspaper clippings found in his trunk at the hotel disclosed that in 1921 he shot and killed a Mexico City broker for a swindle. Letters to detective agencies indicated that he turned over all his money, $1,200, to Hallen as attorney's fees and that Hallen left for the United States soon afterwards. Turner was acquitted in March, 1923, after members of the American colony had hired counsel for him.

The police were informed that Hallen had been an authority on Italian art and literature, a lecturer on drama, a keen lawyer, a promoter of stock schemes, a theater owner, and had dipped into journalism in the Hawaiian Islands and San Francisco.

His wife witnessed the shooting yesterday and fainted when one of the bullets ripped into the room in which she was sitting.

More Practical Program of Agriculture Is Urged Diversification Needed

By ED H. McCUISTION

The directors of the Fair association are farmers and business men, all of whom live in Paris and Lamar county. Without a single exception they are men who not only work for the best interest of Lamar county during the fair season, but they are all members of other organizations, and much time, thought, and effort is given each year to the solutions of agricultural and marketing problems that are thought to be beneficial to the producing public.

It is the sincere conviction of this body of men after most thoughtful deliberation, that the time has arrived in Lamar and adjoining counties when certain changes making for a more practical agriculture must be made. Our present system calls for a line of credit that is absolutely sapping the life out of our banking institutions. The demand for money in order to make crops has reached the point where the money derived in the market place for them will hardly pay the loans together with the labor bills. It is therefore believed that the producers for their own benefit and their own safety must turn to auxiliary crops or lines of production that will afford some relief from the tremendous sums of money that are now borrowed on the one basis of crop yields. We must return somewhat to the earlier system of production which included livestock, poultry, fruit, vegetables, and other things of a like character on each farm home.

It is the hope of the fair directors to exercise some influence which will at least secure the production of meat, milk, eggs, and butter in every home throughout the country unless it would be in city homes that in the very nature of things can not produce these things. It is also desirable that there should be sold from as many farms as possible a sufficient amount of butter fat, commonly called cream each week to pay practically the whole of the family expense. This can be done in hundreds of homes with practically no extra expense.

A separator will of course be necessary. A few milk cows properly selected, simply adds a little labor morning and night. They will consume a good deal of pasture of Johnson and bermuda grass. Much of it is now going to waste. A cream check amounting to $5 to $12 a week would furnish the home with practically all other items of expense outside of those which can be produced on the farm.

Our premium lists are based on the idea that we are promoting this phase of agriculture. We are therefore urging liberal exhibits of animal, poultry, vegetables, eating crops of every kind and character. We expect all the people of Lamar and surrounding counties to attend the fair to acquaint themselves with what we are pleased to call a newer program, and not only the Fair association, but all kindred organizations pledge themselves to stand constantly at the command of those who need further advice or further help in every reasonable way.

SPAIN AGAIN BOWS TO DICTATORSHIP

Royal Decree Annuls 'State of War' Declared By De Rivera Sunday.

MADRID, Sept. 9. (AP)—Spain is again a kingdom subject to the dictatorship. A royal decree today annulled the "state of war" decreed by General Primo De Rivera last Sunday, when the Spanish artillery corps rebelled openly against the regulations providing for a new elective system of promotion.

The government asserts that all artillerymen, chiefs, officers and soldiers have abandoned resistance and that all artillery establishments are in the hands of forces which remain loyal to the government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.(AP)—The cottonmarket opened steady today at a decline of 1 to 10 points. Active months showed net losses of about 4 to 8 points under Southern selling, realizing and local offerings which appeared to be inspired by relatively easy Liverpool cables, reports of a sharp break in the Egyptian market, and hope of better weather in the South.

Private reports of further showers in Oklahoma brought in some buying, however, and after initial offerings had been absorbed, the market steadied on covering.

The market turned easier later in the morning with the appearance of more Southern hedge selling. Trade demand was less in evidence and there was also renewed liquidation and realizing. Bullish comment on the outlook for lower temperatures in the western belt and further showers in the east failed to create any buying power of consequence.

After selling down to 17.62 on the midday decline, December rallied to 17.75 on covering and local buying which appeared to be based on the detailed weather reports showing general rains in the Oklahoma district. The rally was not fully maintained.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9. (AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today presenting a considerable contrast to the activity of yesterday when the government report caused wide fluctuations. The trend of prices was reactionary owing to efforts on the part of ring traders to force liquidation of the long interest carried over the government report.

After a steady opening the market eased off under hammering by shorts until prices showed losses of 20 to 24 points from the previous close. This decline attracted trade buying stimulated by the lower levels and by rains in the northwest, prices recovering about 13 points from the lows. This recovery was maintained until near the end when a renewal of liquidation caused a drop to within 3 to 5 points of the low. The close showed net losses for the day of 17 to 20 points.

At the start Liverpool was a little lower than due but the local market opened about steady, first trades showing a loss of 1 point to a gain of 3 points. The opening prices proved to be the highs of the day.

The market started to ease off despite rather fair rains in the western belt and a forecast for unsettled weather and before the decline was checked helped as it was both by liquidition and hedge selling October had dropped to 17.53, December to 17.60 and January to 17.66, or 20 to 24 points below the close of yesterday.

There was a rally of about 13 points later on trade buying helped by reports of rather considerable rains in Oklahoma but most of this recovery was lost in the final trading.

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9. (AP)—Steady trading marked the opening livestock trade Thursday. No losses in prices were seen.

Beef cattle moved early and a quick clearance was seen. Six cars tidy weight grass steers $6 for a starter.

Beef cows headed by a four car string of thousand pound Herefords taking $5.75, the top of the day; cutters and butcher cows had a spread of $4 to $4.85, canners being taken liberally at $2.50 to $3.75. Jackpot sales very numerous, the bulk she stock coming in mixed cars.

Heifers and yearlings few in numbers, particularly the latter. Heifers took spread of $6.50 to $7.25, quality not so good as during the Wednesday market.

Packers started bidding lower on the calf supply, but changed tactics when shippers got action, then values to some strength on light veals. The best of these went to $10 on shipper buying.

Medium veals took $7.50 to $8, heavy calves moved at $7.25 up.

Hogs fully steady, butchers of 200 pounds $14.50 and medium weights at $14.35. Heavy packers $13.

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (AP) — All grains averaged higher in price today on the board of trade, short covering for a house with eastern connections being responsible for liberal buying of wheat, which carried that grain up-grade.

Corn and oats followed wheat, largely because of unfavorable weather conditions. At the finish wheat was up 1 to 1 5-8 cents, $1.32 1-2 to $1.34 3-4. Corn had gained 3-8 to 1 5-8 cents, 80 1-2 to 81 1-2 cents; oats were 1-4 to 3-8 cent higher, 36 to 38 1-2 cents.

Sentiment in wheat was generally bearish and there was little pressure until the future deliveries advanced above the offers. The local element covered as prices advanced and a fair amount of selling acted as a check on the market.

Despite reports of clearing weather in the northwest, with prospects of resumption of field work and threshing, the Winnipeg market was firm, which feeling helped to lift values here. Anticipation of a bullish Canadian crop report Saturday was credited as a factor in the northern market.

New York Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—Sales of cotton yarns today were larger than at any time in months, buying being done by insulators, weavers and knitters, as well as by many miscellaneous trades.

Cloth markets in the gray goods division were quiet and firm. Finished goods are still selling more freely. New lines of spring ginghams will be opened Monday.

Raw silk was higher at Yokohama and held steady here. The movement to mills last month was the largest ever reported save in January when the total was but 200 bales more. Silk goods are selling more actively.

Burlaps shipments to North America from Calcutta last month reached 66,000,000 yards, or considerably under the average monthly total. That has led to firmer prices here but lower prices in Calcutta.

The wool goods markets were quiet for the day, owing to the absence of many buyers observing religious holidays.
